봄, 가을

- 2부 15화 -

Nothing is set in stone

It was during the first year ...

Every recess was awkward because nobody knew each other...

Then there was this person who was very upfront and stuck out her hand.

She seemed carefree.

I found her mysterious; she was going through everyone in the class and was greeting them.

That was all I thought at the moment that she was mysterious ...

Then I found myself playing the basketball like crazy. I didn't even play basketball in middle school ...

That was when I realized I had feelings for her.

It was hard to keep that to only myself ...

Nothing changed really. She still has no clue. The only changes are that you now know my feelings and I know that you do.
It's still too early to draw conclusions... Who knows where we might be in 1... 3... or even 10 years.

I know you aren't decided on who, so keep going for Bom and don't avoid me since I won't act differently.
But ! if you keep being indecisive, I might change.
